1st Annual Social Thinking® Providers Conference

Applying Social Thinking and Teaching Executive Function Skills: Where, When, How and with Whom?

September 17 & 18, 2014 (Wednesday-Thursday) – Richmond

Speakers:

Joanne Gerenser, Ph.D., CCC-SLP, ABA and Social Thinking

Sarah Ward, M.A., CCC-SLP, Cutting Edge Strategies to Teach Executive Functioning

Michelle Garcia Winner, M.A., CCC-SLP, Founder of Social Thinking

Pamela Crooke, Ph.D., CCC-SLP, New practical lessons/strategies and rubrics for authentic data

9 presentations on using Social Thinking strategies in the Canadian context

The 1st Annual Canadian Social Thinking® Providers Conference is an opportunity for Canadian practitioners of Social Thinking to come together to learn, share ideas and network. ACT is partnering with Michelle Garcia Winner & Social Thinking to hold the 1st Canadian Providers Conference in B.C., after receiving terrific reviews from Canadians who have attended them over the last seven years in the U.S. As the international “Social Thinking movement” grows, the hope is for attendees to gain knowledge and avoid “re-creating the wheel” as they develop practical programs and services for the Canadian context, allowing them to build on what others have shared. For full details on all presentations, see www.actcommunity.ca/events. Co-sponsored by Social Thinking.®

Ready, Set, Coach: Supporting Kids with Autism in Community Recreation Activities

October 4th, 2014 (Saturday) – Kamloops

Presenter: Stephanie Jull, Ph.D., BCBA-D, Program Director, Canucks Autism Network

This event is for recreation instructors, coaches and teachers who want to teach kids with autism in swimming lessons, skating programs, soccer programs, fitness instruction, and other recreation activities. It will also be useful for parents who want to understand more about how to help their kids participate in sports. The day will include an introduction to autism, outline different coaching strategies and provide an introduction to key skills and techniques that are proven to be successful with kids with autism. Dr. Jull illustrates her presentation with videos of children with autism in recreational activities to give practical examples. Participants will leave the event with strategies in hand and a plan for implementation in their own recreation setting. Co-sponsored by Canucks Autism Network (CAN), Autism Kamloops and City of Kamloops.

“Very informative, amazing speaker, engaging, and worthwhile.”

Focus on Best Practices – Autism Resources for Families and Community Professionals in B.C.

October 8th, 2014 (Wednesday), 6:30-9:00 pm – Prince George

Presenters: Deborah Pugh, Executive Director, ACT – Autism Community Training & Karen Bopp, Ph.D., Senior Behavior Consultant, Ministry of Children and Family Development & Research Associate, UBC

ACT has a wealth of resources for parents of children with autism and the professionals who support them – many of these resources are appropriate for all children with special needs. Deborah Pugh will introduce ACT's resources and invite parents to share their perspectives on how ACT can better serve them. Dr. Karen Bopp will provide information on what parents should look for when setting up programs for their children with autism to help enhance their communications and social interaction. Co-sponsored by Ministry of Children and Family Development, Infant Development Program, Aboriginal Infant Development Programs, Prince George Native Friendship Centre, Supported Child Development Programs, Aboriginal Supported Child Development Programs & Aboriginal Early Childhood Development Program. This event is free — please pre-register so we can accommodate all who are interested.

Promoting Speech and Language in Individuals Across the Autism Spectrum: Collaboration for Success

October 24 & 25, 2014 (Friday-Saturday) – Vancouver

Presenter: Joanne Gerenser, Ph.D., CCC-SLP, Executive Director, Eden II Programs, New York

These days will look at the development or enhancement of speech, joint attention and collaboration to enhance student outcomes. Targeted toward non-verbal individuals.

Day 1 – Collaboration for Success: SLPs and Behavior Consultants frequently work together on intervention teams. Collaboration can enhance the outcomes for children and reduce the stress of parents. However, overlapping areas of expertise, different terms used for similar instructional elements, and variations in addressing the same problems may complicate the process. This presentation will provide an overview of the complex learning profiles of learners with ASD, with specific focus on the areas of early learning, joint attention and the development of speech. Case studies will be used to illustrate strategies.

Day 2 – Promoting Speech in Non-Verbal Children with ASD: An overview of the key components of an effective program to promote speech, language comprehension as well as enhanced speech intelligibility will be presented. It will begin with joint attention and early social and linguistic development, and conclude with an overview of augmentative and alternative communication (AAC). Issues unique to individuals on the autism spectrum will be highlighted. Co-sponsored by British Columbia Association for Behaviour Analysis (BC-ABA). CEUs will be available.

Best Practices in Autism Intervention: An Update on the Research and Helping Families Build their "Team"

November 21, 2014 (Friday) – Vancouver

Presenter: Karen Bopp, Ph.D., Senior Behavior Consultant, MCFD & Research Associate, UBC

This presentation provides an overview of current best practice treatment approaches for children and youth with ASD. It will also focus on developing collaborative partnerships between behavior consultants, speech-language pathologists, occupational therapists and other professionals in order to enhance optimal outcomes for children with ASD and provide their families with meaningful support. Topics will include evidence-based practices, intervention models, current research and what we know about alternative and complementary treatments. Dr. Bopp has spent over 20 years in the autism field, as a clinician, researcher and in policy development. Co-sponsored by Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD).

The Science of Making Friends: Helping Socially Challenged Teens and Young Adults with ASD

"Fantastic, most helpful and hands-on training I have attended"

December 5 & 6, 2014 (Friday-Saturday) – Vancouver

Presenter: Elizabeth Laugeson, Psy.D., Founder and Director, PEERS Clinic, University of California Los Angeles

One of the greatest challenges in helping intellectually able teens and young adults with ASD to thrive is helping them make friends. The Program for the Education and Enrichment of Relationship Skills (PEERS) has been developed at the University of California, Los Angeles as a manualized, social skills training intervention for adolescents and young adults. It has a strong evidence-base for use with teens and young adults with ASD, but is also appropriate for teens and young adults with ADHD, anxiety, depression, and other socio-emotional problems. This two day workshop is for those with an introductory or intermediate knowledge of PEERS and is aimed at a general audience of school professionals, para-professionals and parents.
