

Introduction to problem behavior in children and youth with ASD.

Why is this happening? What can you do about it?

This workshop is designed to introduce parents, Behaviour Interventionists (BIs), and school teams working with individuals with ASD and other developmental disabilities to the dynamics of problem behavior. It will cover the different functions of challenging behaviour(s) and discuss the steps required to develop support plans that are likely to be effective. A variety of video examples and scenario questions will be used throughout the presentation.

Workshop is free of charge and will be delivered by a Board Certified Behaviour Analyst who is on the Registry of Autism Service Providers (RASP) in BC.
